簡介 (只有英文) :

This video is made by an English Language teacher who grew up in Hong Kong. Packaged as an English Language video lesson, the clip explains the advantages and importance of the Basic Law and the National Security Law to Hong Kong. The 'anagram' idea at the end of the video offers a fun perspective of the National Security Law while expressing the truth that this law does bring strength and unitedness to Hong Kong. As to the reason of using English to present this video, the presenter thinks that first, the important messages in this clip should be made known internationally, and second, having an English language lover presenting a video on the Basic Law promotion gives an impression that Hong Kong as a bridge between the east and the west is still concrete and vibrant.
